Key issues included representation (resolved by the Great Compromise), slavery (addressed through the Three-Fifths Compromise), and the separation of powers.

Q2: How did the Federalists and Democratic-Republicans differ in their visions for America?

Federalists favored a strong central government, a national bank, and close ties with Britain, believing stability and economic growth depended on federal authority. Democratic-Republicans prioritized states' rights, agricultural interests, and a limited federal government, often aligning with France in foreign policy. These differences reflected contrasting visions of democracy and economic development.
