Themes and Messages

Racial Discrimination and Segregation

One of the most prominent themes in A Raisin in the Sun is the systemic racism that limits African Americans' opportunities. The Younger family's attempt to purchase a home in a predominantly white neighborhood underscores the barriers of racial discrimination and the hostility they face. Hansberry highlights how segregation and prejudice are not just social issues but personal hurdles that influence every decision.

The play questions whether these dreams are attainable within a society rife with inequality, emphasizing that the American Dream often remains elusive for marginalized groups.

At its core, the play explores the importance of family bonds and personal identity. The Youngers' interactions reveal how familial love, sacrifice, and conflict shape their individual journeys. Beneatha's quest for self-understanding and Mama's desire for stability highlight the importance of cultural roots and personal history.

Language and Literary Style

Lorraine Hansberry employs realistic dialogue that captures the authentic voices of her characters. The play's language is colloquial yet layered with symbolism and emotional depth. Hansberry's use of dialect, idiomatic expressions, and monologues provides insight into each character's worldview.

The play's structure is straightforward, with scenes that build tension and develop character relationships. Hansberry's skillful use of symbolism—such as the plant representing Mama's dreams or the house symbolizing hope—adds layers of meaning.
