Strategies to build trust include:

- Consistent and transparent communication
- Following through on commitments

3. Recognizing and Rewarding Performance

Recognition can be formal (awards, bonuses) or informal (public praise). Harvard stresses that acknowledgment of effort and achievement motivates continued high performance.

4. Managing Conflict Constructively

Conflicts are inevitable; managing them constructively is essential. Harvard recommends addressing issues promptly, listening to all parties, and seeking mutually beneficial solutions.

5. Embracing Diversity and Inclusion

A diverse workforce drives creativity and problem-solving. Harvard Business highlights inclusive practices such as unbiased recruiting, cultural competence training, and equitable policies.

- Directive when tasks are complex or employees are inexperienced
- Supportive when employees are capable but need encouragement

Trust is the bedrock of effective teams. Harvard research highlights that when employees trust their leaders, they are more engaged, creative, and willing to take risks.

- Consistency: Leaders who are predictable and fair build trust over time.
